DETAILED ACTION

Response to Restriction Requirement

Applicant's election with traverse of Group II, claims 1-17 in the paper dated 3/3/04 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the search for one group is necessarily co-extensive with the other group, and that the reason for restriction is speculative and has nothing to do with the present claims.

This is not found persuasive because the search for one group does not necessarily require searching for the other group. These claims are to a product and a process, which are separately classified and searched as such.

Also, the reason given is a valid alternative method step that could be used to form the same product. The fact that is not considered in the present claims is irrelevant. All that is required is an alternative method step that could be used to form the same product.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Election of Species

This elected group contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

1) the ARC layer has a tensile stress and the stress-balancing layer has a compressive stress; or

2) the ARC layer has a compressive stress and the stress-balancing layer has a tensile stress.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
